Financial Adviser Standards and Ethics Authority Ltd (FASEA), the standards body for Part 7.6 of the Corporations Act 2001 (The Code) has determined a Code of Ethics.

From 1st January 2020, the Code imposes ethical duties on all providers of personal advice to retail clients and is designed to promote higher standards of behaviour and professionalism in the financial services industry.

Kuda Wealth Pty Ltd and our representatives will always act in a way that demonstrates, realises and promotes the five values and twelve standards of the Code. The Code can be viewed via the <https://www.fasea.gov.au/code-of-ethics/>

Documents you may receive

We will provide you with several documents as you progress through our financial planning process, to capture each stage of your advice journey. We may provide these documents to you electronically via your nominated email address, unless otherwise agreed.

As part of the process of understanding your needs, we may provide you with summary documents outlining your goals and priorities. These are not advice documents and should not be relied upon to make financial decisions.

When we provide personal advice, it will normally be documented and provided to you in a Statement of Advice (SoA). The financial plan contains a summary of your goals, the strategies and any financial products we may recommend to achieve your goals. It also provides you with detailed information about product costs and the fees and other benefits we and others will receive, as a result of the advice we have provided.

If we provide further personal advice, a financial plan may not be required. We will keep records of any further personal advice provided to you for seven years. You may request a copy of such records by contacting our office during that period.

If we recommend or arrange a financial product for you; we will provide a product disclosure statement (PDS) or investor directed portfolio service (IDPS) guide where relevant. These documents contain the key features of the recommended product, such as its benefits and risks, as well as the costs you will pay the product provider to professionally manage that product.

You should read any warnings contained in your advice document, the PDS or IDPS guide carefully, before making any decision relating to a financial strategy or product.

Not Independent

We are committed to providing you with quality advice and will take your personal financial situation, objectives and needs into consideration when providing you with this advice. We are also bound to inform you that the advice provided is not independent, impartial and unbiased as our representatives may receive commissions in relation to life insurance products and operate with restrictions relating to the financial products i.e. we will not provide advice on products that are not on our Approved Product List.

These products and services are supported by the internal research team and via external research houses.

Watershed periodically reviews products and services available via their open APL model to ensure the products and services remain competitive and can appropriately address clients' needs and objectives.

From time to time, Watershed may restrict and amend the use of certain products available within the market place. Generally, we recommend products that are available and not restricted by the approved products and services list. However, if appropriate for your needs, we may, subject to Watershed's approval, recommend other products.

A copy of any restricted products and the APL and services can be supplied to you upon request.

Watershed does not have any restrictions in relation to the platform, administration and services that are available to you, in order to maintain your investment and wealth goals. Watershed expects that the platforms we recommend are fit for purpose and are appropriate for the services and goals of our clients.

Transaction services

If you do not require advice, we can also arrange for you to apply for limited types of financial products where we can take your instructions and arrange for the transaction to be completed, without providing personal advice. If you wish to proceed without our advice, we will ask you to confirm your instructions, which we will document in writing. You can ask us for a copy of this documentation at any time.

Our advice fees

Advice costs

The fees charged for our advice may be based on a combination of:

- A set dollar amount; or
- A percentage of the funds that you invest.

Initial Advice

This covers the cost of researching and preparing your financial plan and is based on a set dollar amount. Before providing you with initial advice we will prepare an Initial Advice Agreement. The agreement sets out what our initial advice covers and how much it costs. The initial advice fee will also be disclosed within your SoA.

Advice implementation

This is the cost to implement the recommended strategies and products and is based upon a set dollar amount.

It is usually disclosed within your initial advice agreement and it will also be disclosed within your SoA. As a general rule, Kuda Wealth Pty Ltd charges an integrated Initial advice fee and implementation fee within one singular and upfront agreed advice fee.

Ongoing advice

An ongoing advice agreement will set out our support packages including the advice and services we will provide, the frequency these will be delivered, how much it will cost, your payment method and how the service can be terminated.

The fee covers the cost to review the strategies and the products recommended in your SoA. It may be charged as a set dollar amount or a percentage of your investments.

Ongoing advice fees may increase each year in line with the Consumer Price Index (CPI) or by a fixed amount or a fixed percentage each year. We will advise you if this fee will increase as a result of CPI.
